OTHER RESOURCES

DVSJA Attorney Support Project (NYSDA)

With the support of the DVSJA Statewide Defender Task Force and Brooklyn Law School's Survivors Justice Project, NYSDA will provide direct support services for attorneys working on DVSJA cases, including Penal Law § 60.12 prospective sentencing cases and CPL 440.47 resentencing cases. Attorneys seeking advice and assistance on DVSJA cases should contact Stephanie Batcheller at (518) 465-3524 ext. 41. For more information, go to <https://www.nysda.org/page/DVSJA>.

Brooklyn Law School Criminal Defense and Advocacy Clinic

Through the Survivors Justice Project, Brooklyn Law School clinic teams deliver pro bono services and work with survivors of domestic violence seeking resentencing through the DVSJA. The clinic filed some of the first resentencing applications under the new law, resulting in several significant reductions in prison sentences for survivors. For more information, contact Kate Mogulescu at kate.mogulescu@brooklaw.edu or (718) 780-0337.

Incarcerated Gender Violence Survivors Initiative

The Incarcerated Gender Violence Survivors Initiative (“IGVSI”) is working on DVSJA implementation and cases. The IGVSI can serve as a resource regarding CPL 440.47 resentencing motions, particularly with respect to advising on issues of intimate partner violence (“IPV”) and trauma and recommending IPV and trauma-related resources and experts. In limited instances, members of the Initiative may be able to co-counsel on cases or accept referrals. For more information, contact IGVSI@sffny.org
